This intensive 3-day course concentrates on economic evaluation techniques applied in upstream and downstream oil and gas projects. It will discuss the fundamental variables and issues associated with petroleum project valuations and provide an appreciation of how to assess the key uncertainties involved.

The course is pitched to appeal to professionals with a large range of technical and commercial backgrounds and varying levels of experience seeking insight to the broad range of economic valuation techniques required across the industry. In addition the course will also provide a valuable overview of the micro-economic issues facing oil and gas project operators for those employed by financial, commercial, legal, insurance, governmental, service, supply and advisory organisations.

The course will incorporate a number of short exercises and case studies to reinforce the key techniques discussed.

Course notes are issued in digital format.
